

WEBSITE USAGE POLICY

This policy governs the rules and conditions for browsing and using the content accessible, even without the need for registration, through the website (or) (hereinafter, the "Site") owned by New Europe Srl, with its registered office at Viale Certosa, 218, 20156, Milan, MI. The policy applies both to freely accessible content and to content reserved for users who use the services provided through the Site, for which the General Terms and Conditions of Registration, Use, and Sale also apply and prevail in case of conflict.

By accessing the Site and browsing its web pages, the user declares their acceptance of the applicable regulations in force in Italy and the rules specified below. If the user does not wish to accept, in whole or in part, the conditions outlined below, they must stop consulting the Site.

The Site does not constitute a newspaper, is not an editorial product, is not periodic, and is updated entirely at the discretion of New Europe Srl. The information and materials published on the Site (hereinafter, the "Content") are curated to the best of our abilities to make them as error-free as possible, but New Europe Srl assumes no responsibility for any errors or inaccuracies, even if resulting from failure to update. New Europe Srl also reserves the right to modify, add, remove one or all of the Content, as well as to suspend, interrupt, or restrict access to the Site or the Content at any time without notice and at its sole discretion.

The Website and all its contents, even partial, the documents, the databases found and used therein, and the related consultation systems are protected by current copyright laws (Law No. 633/1941 and subsequent amendments) and, unless otherwise specified, are exclusively owned by New Europe Srl. The User does not have the right to appropriate, reproduce, modify, translate, distribute, republish, in any form, even partially, or otherwise use the Website's Contents for professional purposes and/or related to their own or others' professional activities, or otherwise for purposes beyond strictly personal use. However, the Contents can be used freely for exclusively personal purposes, provided that the moral and/or economic rights of the legitimate owners of individual Contents are not infringed.

The trademarks and/or any other distinctive signs present on the Site are the property of New Europe Srl and/or other companies belonging to the New Europe Srl Group and/or third parties and may not under any circumstances or for any reason be used without the written authorization of the respective owners.

The documentation, images, fonts, graphics, software, and other content on the Site, as well as all codes necessary for their implementation, are the property of New Europe Srl and/or other companies belonging to the New Europe Srl Group or of third parties and are protected by the applicable regulations.

The Website may contain links to other websites managed by third parties, which do not imply any acknowledgment by New Europe Srl of any form of association with the operators of those sites, for whose content New Europe Srl is in no way responsible.

It is possible to freely link to the home page or other pages of the Site, while it is strictly forbidden to make the Site visible through framing, deep linking, or mirroring.
